Thanks Alfred. His Parkinson's was progressing and he had a couple of surgeries....the last was hip surgery and he just couldn't fight anymore. But he made everyone feel welcomed in his home and he loved to tease. He will be missed.

“ I remember the first time I met Fred.... He came into the restaurant I worked at and was surely a buster and had me going ... But as I grew to know him he was an amazing man if he wasn't joking with you then he didn't like you. well we had a wonderful customer waitress relationship with him and Julie. My condolences go out to Julie and his family. He left good memories with everyone he knew. May you Rest In Peace my friend.

Rose he did tease you a lot; but all in fun. He liked you and Angie very much; especially that you could give it right back to him. We enjoyed going there for breakfast. It felt like home.
