I dated Bob in the 1970's. He was the most interesting man I knew. He loved music, especially the Rolling Stones. When I went backpacking through Europe in 1972 with my sister, we stopped at a record store in Amsterdam where I picked up a Stones album for Bob that wasn't available in the states. He was a great tennis player who had no luck teaching me to play tennis. So, I switched to sailing 35 years later. I was able to track Bob down with the help of my brother-in-law who found his profile & photo on linked-in. Bob was in remission at the time & I'm sorry I didn't continue to stay in touch. I remember in the late 70's that he came to Miami & brought his wife to my office to meet me. He was such a wonderful person & I feel privileged to have shared a tiny part of his life, including meeting his open and warm parents at their home in West Barrington, if I recall correctly. So sorry to hear that Bob is no longer with us. He was very brave & courageous while fighting to live. Goodbye Bob.
